EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Madeleine Calcote-Garcia

It's a whole new history.

For an organization that preserves the past, we have a whole lot of new to celebrate right now.

Start with our renovated museum. One year in to our redesigned space, we're still energized by the response from visitors to the new exterior, new exhibits, and new possibilities our transformed building presents.

That idea has naturally extended to telling old stories in new ways and to bringing more recent aspects of our county's history to light as well. Our diversity series in 2022 is a great example of that idea. So, too, was our immersive Carry Nation exhibit which engaged visitors this past fall.

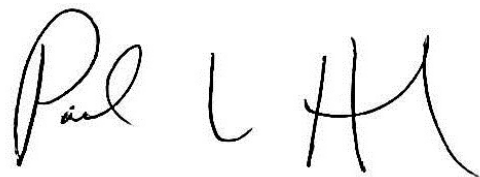

Out at the George Ranch, our Black Cowboy Rodeo emerged from the pandemic in full force last February, with record-setting attendance numbers. What began as an inspiring new idea has now become an established tradition.

Increased admissions at virtually all of our properties and events, in fact, point toward an exciting future. History has a way of connecting us, whether 200 or 20 years ago. It's our mission to put that idea into place.

Guiding us there is perhaps the biggest new story of all – the appointment of our new Executive Director, Madeleine Calcote-Garcia, who came on board in November following the planned retirement of long-time director Claire Rogers.

New can be a good thing. Even for a history association like ours.

Regards,

Paul Horak
Board President
